Purpose Statement
Northwest MIRECC applies modern genetic, neurologic and clinical trial methodology to the discovery and development of new and more effective treatments for major and often treatment resistant mental disorders afflicting Veterans and the active duty combat personnel who will become Veterans. These monthly virtual conferences are designed to translate current scientific and clinical research into thoughtful and accessible information that can be used by clinicians to enhance their care of Veterans. In this way, MIRECC Presents empowers mental health providers to integrate cutting-edge treatments and timely research into their daily clinical practices, thereby raising the quality of care for Veterans who experience mental health challenges. Challenging presentations of PTSD, particularly dissociation and somatization trauma reactions, sometimes lead clinicians to hesitate in offering evidence-based PTSD treatment. This presentation will help clinicians and healthcare teams to identify and understand dissociation and somatization presentations as trauma reactions within a PTSD case conceptualization framework, including reviewing clinical suggestions to support first-line evidence-based PTSD treatment for Veterans with these challenging presentations.

Target Audience
The target audience includes but is not limited to Physicians, Nurses, Psychologists, Social Workers, Healthcare Teams and other professionals supporting Veteran care.

Outcome/Objectives
At the conclusion of this educational program, learners will be able to:
1. describe how individuals with PTSD may present with dissociation and somatization;
2. discuss the rationale for not immediately excluding individuals with PTSD and dissociation or somatization reactions from evidence-based treatments for PTSD; and
3. identify methods to address dissociation and somatization PTSD reactions within evidence-based PTSD treatment.
