

A new study at the Seattle VA is seeking volunteers who served in the U.S. Armed Forces during the Gulf War to help us learn more about Gulf War Veterans' Illness.

You may be eligible to participate if you meet the following criteria:

- 40 years of age or older
- In the Armed Services from August 1990 to August 1991, regardless of your deployment status

Volunteers will receive cognitive testing, a medical exam, brain scans, genetic sampling, temperature sensitivity testing, and an optional lumbar puncture. The study will be between 4 and 6 visits and volunteers will be compensated for their time.
